

Privacy Policy

OPMI respects the privacy of its web site users. OPMI will not gather, distribute or retain your personal details except under the following conditions

1. The users contact details may be used for the purpose of delivering extra information and/or quotations as requested by the user
2. The user has given consent to use their contact details for the purpose of commercial and/or personal references
3. The user has given consent for OPMI to pass on their contact details for the purpose of receiving extra information and/or quotations from a 3rd party
4. For legal obligations as required by governing laws over electronic media usage